THE FIGHT AGAINST OLEO

Senate Discussion Enlivened By Sharp and Vigorous Attack.

ALLEGED FRAUDULENT WAYS

Reported Tax Was Declared to Be Not Against a Verdict But Against a Fraud.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 26.—The senate resumed consideration of the oleomargarine bill and Mr Hansbrough (N. D.) continued his speech in support of the measure.

He charged that the oleomargarine manufacturers employed methods which were not at all creditable, and said they were opposing the pending bill because its enactment no longer would render profitable their traffic, which had been placed under the ban by the legislatures of many of the states. He declared that the oleomargarine manufacturers were pleading with congress for a business that had been outlawed by many states.

In opposition to the pending measure Mr. Stewart, of Nevada, said he was unable to discover any principle or provision that warranted such a bill as this.

He saw no more reason for taxing colored oleomargarine than for taxing colored butter. He declared that the butter makers were palming off rancid and unwholesome butter upon the consumers, by coloring it and yet they claimed that oleomargarine makers had no right to color their product.

Mr. Dolliver (Iowa) spoke in support of the pending measure. He said the oleomargarine manufacturers by their evasion of the law already upon the statute books had put themselves in partnership with lawlessness and fraud and perjury.

Mr. Dolliver said he had been much impressed by the cheerful way in which the senator from Mississippi had stated that the pending bill would be put with only a bare dozen votes if a secret ballot upon it could be taken in the senate.

"Since I made that statement," said Mr. Money, "I have had assurances from that side of the chamber (the Republican side) that it is a fact."

In the course of his speech Mr. Dolliver declared that the oleomargarine manufacturers and some of the dealers in the article were evading constantly the law of 1886, which provided that every package of oleomargarine should be stamped plainly. In proof of his statement he exhibited a package of oleomargarine which he had purchased from a famous butter dealer in Chicago. He said the package was marked, but it would tax any man's ingenuity to find the mark. He then handed the package to Mr. Tillman and challenged him to find the mark required by law to be on the wrapper.

Mr. Tillman failed to discover the imprint. Mr. Dolliver pointed it out printed in fine type in a corner of the wrapper. The incident excited lively interest and amusement.

Mr. Dolliver referred to a well-known oleomargarine and butter dealer in Chicago who spent more than half his time in the courts for violation of the oleomargarine bill.

"And he never gets into the courts," said he, "but he finds there side by side with him the attorneys for the oleomargarine manufacturers."

Mr. Dolliver declared that the only way to "break up a nest like this" was to reduce to a minimum the profits of the rascality." He said there must be something fatally wrong with a business that spends more of its time dodging the police and the courts than the other branches of the business. If this business was looking for a fight to a finish with the American farm it would be accommodated by the allied agricultural interest. He insisted that the proposed law would not interfere with legitimate industries which supplied raw materials to the oleomargarine manufacturers and that the oleomargarine industry itself would not be injured seriously. Even if the oleomargarine industry should be wiped out, however, it must be borne in mind that the American dairy interests represented far more than the interests which contribute raw material to the oleomargarine industry.

Mr. Dolliver sharply arraigned Mr. Stewart for a statement that much butter was made in conditions of squalor and disease. Illustrating the interest of the greatest of our people in the farm, he described an incident which occurred in the late President McKinley's last western tour. As the train was passing through Iowa early one morning the president was observed to be languing to himself as he watched the antics of two boys warming their feet on the spot where a cow had been lying during the night.

"Gentlemen," said President McKinley, "one of the pleasantest and most delightful recollections of my boyhood is the solid comfort which those boys are now having—warming frost-bitten feet in the place where cows have been lying. I wonder how many of you have had a similar experience."

One after another of the members of the cabinet, governors, senators and representatives who were of the party, bore witness to the same experience, beginning with John Hay, who said his feet warming partly in Ohio and partly in Illinois, and ending with Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, who warmed his feet in the heather of Scotland.

Mr. Hoar said one of the greatest dangers to the country was the establishment of the principle that the taxing power of the government could be used as a means of punishing and suppressing vice or crime or of any form of wrong-doing.

Mr. Vest inquired if congress had the right to invade his state where oleomargarine was manufactured under state laws and tax the industry out of existence when the oleomargarine made there had not entered into interstate commerce.

Mr. Hoar replied that congress was in every state of the union as much as the state government was and as a controlling power it was supreme. Congress had the right to use the taxing power to put out of existence and strike down anything which it had a constitutional right to strike at directly.

Mr. Bailey inquired if the imposition of the 10-cent tax on oleomargarine really was intended to raise revenue.

"No," replied Mr. Hoar. "I have tried to make that point clear. This 10-cents-a-pound tax is a tax not upon oleomargarine but upon a fraud, upon the false coloring."

Mr. Lodge explained that he expected to vote for the pending measure for the reason that it imposed a tax upon an article that was fraudulent in a sense. He urged however, that the house clause against renovated butter ought to be restored to the bill.

Mr. Proctor, in charge of the measure, said that an amendment covering that point probably would be offered.

The senate then, at 4:10, went into executive session and a few minutes later adjourned.

HOUSE COMMITTEE ON CHINESE EXCLUSION BILL

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 26.—The report of the house committee on the Chinese exclusion bill was filed today by Representative Perkins of New York, who drafted it. The report says in part:

"The committee are unanimous in the opinion that the admission of Chinese laborers into this country would be a serious evil. Every endeavor has been made to report an act which will secure the exclusion of Chinese laborers. We recognize the fact that evasions under the present exclusion laws result chiefly from the abuse of treaty privileges and the introduction of Chinese claiming to be merchants who are really laborers. We have endeavored to guard against these evils.

"On the other hand, this country desires to obtain its fair share of commerce with the east and with China, and to our treatment of the privileged classes, the genuine merchants, students, etc., allowed by the treaty to enter this country, we have endeavored to avoid any discourtesy or annoyance which was not required to prevent fraud."

The report says that the few provisions of the Kahn bill stricken out were such as might have brought into question the constitutionality of the measure.

The report further says:

"The committee have stricken out the provision of the Kahn bill which forbids the employment of Chinese on ships carrying the American flag on the Pacific. We regard this provision as foreign to the purposes of the bill, which is to prevent the entry of the Chinese into this country. We also regard it as injudicious. The result of such a provision would be to compel steamships that now float the American flag on the Pacific to take the British register. This is certainly not the way to build up our merchant marine, for which there is so great a demand. The work done by the Chinese on these steamships in the intense heat of the tropics is work which our American workmen could not do, should not do and would not do."

Representative Clark, of Missouri, has reserved the right to make a dissenting report against the employment of Chinese sailors on American ships.

CHOLERA AT MANILA.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 26.—The navy department has given Rear Admiral Frank Wildes, the ranking admiral in the service, authority to take such steps as may be necessary to prevent the spread of the cholera epidemic which prevails at Manila, to the officers and men of the naval establishment at Cavite. As far as can be learned here the epidemic is confined to the natives and Chinese in Manila and does not prevail among the whites.

By Associated Press.

Manila, March 26.—At noon today the health authorities reported a total of 49 cases of cholera and 49 deaths.

FOR MINING SCHOOLS.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 26.—Senator Tillman from the committee on mines and mining today reported favorably the bill devoting a portion of the proceeds of the sale of public lands to the maintenance of state and territorial mining schools.

FREIGHT RATES TO LEADVILLE

Board of Trade Is Endeavoring to Bring About a Re-Adjustment on a Fairer Basis.

Special to the Gazette.

Leadville, March 25.—Considerable excitement and interest is being shown by the local merchants of this city in the efforts of the board of trade to bring about a readjustment of freight rates.

It is claimed by merchants who have at different times attempted to build up a jobbing trade with western Colorado that, owing to the differences existing between the local rates and those in effect at Salt Lake, the local men were unable to compete with the Utah merchants, who could have goods come from the east and reship them to Colorado points at much lower rates than could be obtained here, and for this reason the local men have been confined strictly to a retail trade.

President Lancaster of the board of trade has secured copies of all the tariff schedules in effect and the local merchants are asked to present their freight bills for comparison in order to locate the discrimination claimed for in favor of Utah.

There seems to be some "rebaters" among the merchants, and for this reason it is thought it will be a rather difficult matter to secure the necessary evidence, although the majority of the business men are in favor of the proceedings and will use their best efforts in its behalf.

Mr. Lancaster does not believe the claims of the railroads for the contention that, owing to Leadville being off the main line has a bearing on the case, or that it will prove valid if contested. He says there exists a certain franchise which gives the roads certain rights providing they run their trains through the city. This agreement, he points out, the roads have not lived up to, and he also states the merchants can base their claims from either Malta or Arkansas Junction, which are the nearest points on the main lines of the respective roads.

THE MARQUIS OF QUEENSBERRY DEAD

Cecil Rhodes, Statesman, Empire Builder, Philanthropist and Multi-Millionaire Passes Away.

By Associated Press.

Cape Town, March 26.—Cecil Rhodes died peacefully at 5:57 p. m.

Mr. Rhodes was conscious until 5:55 p. m., when he muttered a few words and sank quickly. The immediate cause of his death was two successive attacks of heart failure. At his bedside were Dr. Jamison, Dr. William Smartt, the commissioner of public works; Colonel Elmhurst Rhodes, director of signaling of the South African field force, and Mr. Walton, a member of the assembly of Port Elizabeth.

Mr. Rhodes' last words were the names of his brothers and some of the others present which were meant to be good-byes. The only person who attended him during his illness and who was not present at his death-bed was Dr. Stevenson. All the others, his "boys" and personal servants, were admitted at the last.

The body will be taken to Grotteschuur, the residence of the deceased near Cape Town, on a special train tomorrow. There it will probably lie in state for a day or two and the public will be admitted to view the remains. It has not yet been determined where he will be buried. It was the wish of Mr. Rhodes to be interred at Matoppo Hills, Rhodesia. Certain of his friends will proceed to Matoppo Hills to determine whether it is practicable to carry out this wish.

The features of the dead man are placid, and a death mask of them will be taken.

SOME INCIDENTS OF CECIL RHODES' LAST YEARS

By Associated Press.

London, March 26.—The death of Cecil Rhodes came as no great surprise to those few who saw anything of him during his last visit to London during the winter. Whether it was due to his experiences during the long siege of Kimberley, or the accumulated anxieties regarding the war in South Africa, with an accompanying change of public feeling in England towards him there is no doubt he was almost completely broken down within the last two years.

Even his appearance changed. His once finely chiseled face had become bloated and his always huge frame, filled out until he became so stout as to make walking a matter of difficulty. He was frequently attacked with severe heart troubles, during which he exhibited the stoicism which marked his extraordinary career. Nor did he allow his bodily ailments to interfere with business. Among his associates in the city he never mentioned them, nor did he permit them to be mentioned to him.

Up to the last Mr. Rhodes kept a firm grip on all those vast South African interests created and controlled by him. Except that he was more irritable and more dictatorial, there was no outward change in his method of handling men, millions and empires. Towards the social side of life, however, he soured visibly. Once his day's work at the offices of the British Chartered South Africa company was over he shut himself up from the curious in an unfrequented London hotel, where he utterly denied himself to all except half a dozen favored intimates. Dr. Jameson was his constant companion. Indeed, none of Dr. Jameson's indiscretions ever affected the warm friendship existing between the two men. They could be seen in the park in the morning taking solitary rides on horses, never breaking out from a walk, the cynosure of all eyes, yet severely unobservant of the hundreds of London's political and social leaders who had the right to a bowing acquaintanceship. More especially did Mr. Rhodes shun the present government leaders. He bitterly expressed his contempt of British army methods in South Africa, and probably never quite forgave Mr. Chamberlain and Lord Milner for not consulting him or endeavoring to utilize the powerful financial and political machine which Mr. Rhodes undoubtedly manipulated over the whole of South Africa.

With increasing irascibility, which he did not hesitate to vent on duke or plebeian who crossed his path, he grew more and more restless as the end of his life drew near. He was never contented to stay long in one place. His closing days devolved into an unceasing, purposeless quest of change of scene. During his recent trip to Egypt this was particularly noticeable. He rushed from place to place, as if with the only object of upsetting his own plans. Then he suddenly returned to England.

Financially, Mr. Rhodes' death is not likely to have any very far-reaching results, as all his enterprises were systematized so thoroughly so as to not need the master mind which was so necessary to their inception.

Owing to the very great success of the DeBeers mines, the British Chartered South Africa company and other great South African ventures, Rhodes' fortune had been steadily accumulating. He lost money over the war but what inroads that made must have been trifling compared with the many millions he possessed. He never lost his openhanded, but somewhat reckless methods of handling money. Not long ago he walked into the office of one of his confidential subordinates and threw down a bundle of notes, bonds, etc., saying: "Invest these for me," and went out without waiting to have them looked at. Inspection revealed the fact that they amounted to more than a million pounds sterling.

How they were invested Mr. Rhodes never knew, or cared for months later, as that night he went off on one of his wandering tours and refused to allow himself to be bothered with the details of the investment of his million until he returned to England.

EARL GREY'S ESTIMATE OF RHODES' CHARACTER

By Associated Press.

New York, March 26.—Earl Grey, before sailing for England, gave to the Associated Press an interview concerning Cecil Rhodes, the earl having received cablegrams from South Africa which led him to believe that Mr. Rhodes had but a few days to live. Lord Grey knew the famous South African leader intimately, having served with him on the board of the British-South Africa company, and the intimacy grew when the earl was governor of Rhodesia. Lord Grey said:

"Cecil Rhodes is the only exemplar, perhaps, in our generation of those idealists who in the days of Elizabethan adventure made the Anglo-Saxon the predominant partner in the world's firm. I need not call up their names and titles.

"They were all, after the king, both the admiration and the terror of their contemporaries and I believe that with all of them, from Drake to Robert Clive, terror rather than admiration, was the keynote they struck. The conservative forces are those which naturally are in control of governments. 'We never know what he will do next,' said a friend to me of Rhodes. Something big, some great development that might involve perhaps a change in the very constitution of our empire. The world, at least its governors, do not much like such men as these who keep them awake at night and so the greatest Englishman of our day has come to be looked upon and not by the British mandarin only with somewhat mixed feelings.

"One thing I should like especially to point out. He had a never-failing confidence in the growth of the federal principle of government. He admired the American nation enormously, but for this strange and detached reason—he believed that you owed your prodigious orderly development to the splendid construction of your Constitution. I personally have always opposed home rule; being at that time in the house of commons, I left Mr. Gladstone's party over this issue. Rhodes, however, never wearied of assuring me that I ought to have gone forward, that in this direction alone was safety; that the Irish were building better than they at all knew; that their demand was on all fours with the American state right platform and that it the very rapidity of the proposed change was our best promise of safety. He gave, you may recall, £10,000 to Mr. Parnell. This gift was a rock of offense to the best Whig element in our country—for example to the Spectator—but Rhodes believed with Sir Hercules Robinson that Ireland would make one or two orderly states of a federal union; he saw that the federation of Canada had been agreeably arranged and that in the Canadian settlement a race problem had been solved, that the time for Australian federation was now at hand; that a peaceful (as he thought) federation of South Africa was inevitable and that with certain modifications in our second chamber so that it might evolve as an imperial senate the federation of these various components into an imperial union would be secured and in our time."

Earl Grey then turned the conversation to the famous Jameson raid, calling it the "unhappy raid which obscured my friend's bright light."

"But let us be fair to him," continued Lord Grey. "Rhodes, in the first place, was premier in Cape Colony; he knew that Krueger would fight to the death any federation of South Africa under our flag. He knew that either South Africa must come under the Dutch flag or the English flag or that the alternative was the 'national system' or rather the welter and chaos you see in South Africa today. If the Transvaal, arming to the teeth, continued this condition of preparation, then also every man in our colony of Natal must similarly arm. It is no longer possible that a chess board of little armed 'nations' can be permitted; they menace the peace and orderly progress of the entire world. You have got this in South Africa. We have got it in the Balkan peninsula and therefore war clouds gather at all times over central and eastern Europe. Rhodes saw this. He saw that independence on the Krueger plan was incompatible with individual freedom; that it involved all round militarism.

"Then again he had great financial interests in the Transvaal. These gave him the moral right to effect a revolution if he could. Here was a so-called republic refusing to a majority of its community the franchise while levying taxes at the rate of $60 per capita per annum, and turning two-thirds of this misbegotten revenue into munitions of war. Krueger aimed at arming all the Dutch in South Africa with the gold he levied from the Rand miners. I don't want to discuss the ethics of our war or the causes of that war, but I do want to make it clear that my friend hoped by an effective coup d'etat to destroy at a blow Kruegerism and to secure for the Transvaal the same political conditions, namely, equal rights for all white men as obtain in Cape Colony and Natal. He failed; the raid failed; Dr. Jameson upset my apple cart as Rhodes phrased it, and the abortive raid presented Rhodes himself to all mankind in a false light."

Passing to the expected death of his friend, Lord Grey said:

"The world will be poorer; no one will dream such dreams and try to draw them on a map; no one living perhaps will try as he would have tried to federate our empire on the American system. Rosebery, yes he will try; we will, many of us, try and we will succeed. Others can carry on his work. I am happy that I went to Washington, where things look fully accomplished. Such men as your president, Senator Hoar and others I could name give those who come near them much encouragement. A great genius goes out with Rhodes. True, his work will go forward in some ways more smoothly, perhaps, because he had inevitably aroused great antagonism; but we shall not see his like again and his passing will for me and many others take much color from our lives. Other nations, he once said to me, will pursue peace, but the two great English-speaking nations standing together can enjoy it."

Lord Grey concluded by saying:

"When his will is read it will be known with what intention Rhodes, who never wasted a precious moment on pleasure or self-indulgence, had collected a great modern fortune."

FUNSTON SCORES EASTERN CRITICS

By Associated Press.

Topeka, Kas., March 26.—General Frederick Funston was in this city today on his way to California. General Funston delivered himself of a scathing denunciation of the eastern newspapers which criticised his speech before the Lotus club in New York. He said:

"I have been nagged by that class of papers until I am tired. Editorially they will fully misinterpret my remarks and I am glad to express my independence of their opinions and their talk and that of their kind, about my using dishonorable and unfair means in the capture of Aguinaldo. Also that I have violated the articles of war. They know a great deal more about the articles of golf than they do about the articles of war. Everything is permissible in a campaign except the violation of a flag of truce. As a matter of fact only four of my men on the expedition were dressed in the insurgent uniform. The others were dressed as Filipino peasants.

"President Roosevelt approved heartily of my remarks before the Lotus club banquet and was very anxious to have me go to Boston on the invitation of Senator Lodge and make the same speech there but my orders were such that it was impossible for me to go."

IN BEHALF OF THE FAIR.

By Associated Press.

Reeves, secretary of the joint committee on legislation and state and territorial exhibits, left tonight on a western tour of exploitation to last about three weeks. They will met the governors of New Mexico, Nevada, California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Utah and Wyoming as well as members of business organizations in capitals of those states, also the leading citizens of several other cities, including San Francisco, Portland, and Tacoma.

A VERDICT OF GUILTY

Albert T. Patrick Convicted of the Murder of William Marsh Rice.

TO MOVE FOR A NEW TRIAL

Only Three Hours' Deliberation at Close of Trial Which Lasted Nine Weeks Was a Surprise.

By Associated Press.

New York, March 26.—Albert T. Patrick, lawyer, was this evening convicted of the murder on September 23, 1900, of the aged millionaire recluse, William Marsh Rice. The penalty under the statute is death in the electric chair.

A scant three hours of deliberation at the close of a trial prolonged for nine weeks and replete with sensational interest sufficed to enable the jury to reach their verdict. The issue of the trial establishes the charge that Patrick conspired with Mr. Rice's valet, Charles F. Jones, to obtain possession of the aged Texan's estate estimated at $7,000,000 and that Jones killed his employer by the administration of chloroform at the direct instigation of Patrick.

At the close of Recorder Goff's charge which occupied the morning session of the court, the jury retired. This was at 1:50 p. m. At 5:55 they notified the officer in charge that they were ready to return to court, rather more than an hour of the intervening time having been devoted to luncheon.

In anticipation of a scene of excitement in the event of a verdict of guilty, the unusual step was taken of ordering all women to leave the court room. Among them were the prisoner's two sisters and Mrs. Francis, with whom he boarded.

With grave faces the members of the jury filed into their places and some minutes of painful tension elapsed while messengers were endeavoring to find the counsel who had departed, not expecting a verdict for many hours.

Calm as ever and with confidence seemingly unshaken, the prisoner was escorted into the court room. He walked rapidly and took his stand facing the jury with head erect and hands loosely clasped behind his back.

At the word "guilty" pronounced by Foreman Machell in a tone low but distinct enough to be heard throughout the court, not the slightest change passed over Patrick's face and he remained standing in an almost listless attitude while the customary poll of the jury was being taken. His aged father, Captain Patrick, sitting near him, and straining to catch the statement of the foreman, started for an instant as its import reached him, and then sat calmly awaiting the further proceedings.

A smile of triumph lit up the face of Assistant District Attorney Osborne, who hastened from the court immediately after Recorder Goff had, at the request of the prisoner's counsel, fixed a week from Monday as the day on which to pronounce sentence. The verdict was known almost immediately in the corridor where the woman relatives and friends of the prisoner were waiting and a scene of great excitement ensued.

Screaming hysterically, the prisoner's eldest sister ran about the corridor, begging to be allowed to see her brother. Mrs. Francis fainted and on recovering broke from the attendants and rushed into the court room, from which Patrick had just been removed. There she swooned again. Both women were removed to an ante-room and were sent home in a carriage.

Captain Patrick, after taking leave of his son, who was led back to the Tombs, would only say: "It is hard; we will have to try again."

None of the jurors could be induced to reveal how the verdict had been reached, an agreement having been made to tell nothing.

A motion will be made for a new trial when the prisoner is arraigned for sentence.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN WAS WITNESS IN POWER'S SUIT

By Associated Press.

New York, March 26.—J. Pierpont Morgan gave evidence today before Special Examiner Maybe in the suit of Peter Power against the Northern Pacific Railway company. He was questioned for two hours and a half by George Alfred Lamb of counsel for Power, and during that time he answered questions rapidly and without the slightest appearance of reserve. Only once or twice, when questions were asked concerning the relationship of J. P. Morgan & Co. with the firm's customers, did he decline to answer.

Before the hearing opened, Mr. Morgan objected to the presence of a number of photographers and they were directed to leave the room.

During the examination Mr. Morgan leaned back heavily in his chair, his left hand thrust from time to time deeply in his trousers pocket. He toyed with an envelope impatiently now and then striking it against his knee, now against the table on which his arm rested. His eyes expressed impatience. They roamed about in excited restlessness, while the questions were being put to him, but the moment he was ready to answer they fixed themselves on Mr. Lamb. Several times during the hearing the financier seemed amused. Once Mr. Lamb asked if the price of Northern Pacific did not go above its real value while his firm was buying it in May, 1901.

"No," said Mr. Morgan, so amused that he had to stop to control himself before he answered. "It did when they came to deliver the stock but not when they actually bought."

At another point the witness was asked if Mr. Hill had not told him that there was danger that the Harriman syndicate would buy the Burlington.

"No," replied he, "but such a thing was only to be expected. The papers had much in them about railroad interests buying roads. I believe that within 30 days we bought every railroad in the United States;" and Mr. Morgan laughed.

After his examination had been finished, Mr. Morgan was conducted through several hallways to Judge Wallace's private chambers, whence he made his way out of the building. All this was necessary to get away from a number of photographers who were waiting in one of the hallways to take the financier's picture when he left the examination hall.

ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF FORGERY IN NEW YORK

By Associated Press.

Philadelphia, March 26.—Moses Schwartz, who is wanted in New York for alleged forgeries on the Seventh National bank, aggregating $100,000, was arrested here today by Detective Sergeant McNaught of New York and Detective Meyer of this city.

Schwartz was arraigned for a hearing this afternoon and was held to await requisition papers from New York.

R. W. Jones, vice president of the Seventh National bank of New York, made a statement in which he said that Swartz, as manager of the Manhattan Mercantile Co., 35 South Williams street, New York, had an account with his bank.

The Manhattan Mercantile company failed last summer, a short time previous to the failure of the Seventh National bank. While he was a depositor, Schwartz, it is alleged, secured loans amounting to about $100,000 on worthless notes. When the fraudulent nature of the notes was discovered Schwartz had disappeared, leaving his family in New York. His wife was subsequently shadowed and Schwartz was located on South Sixteenth street, this city. He had been here six weeks.

Mr. Jones said there is an indictment against Schwartz in New York charging him with swindling another bank.

New York, March 26.—Officials of the Seventh National bank declined today to discuss the arrest at Philadelphia of Moses Schwartz and referred all inquiry to Sullivan & Cromwell, attorneys for the bank. At the office of Sullivan & Cromwell, a statement was made that Schwartz was a customer of the old Seventh National bank which had discounted a large number of notes for him as manager of the Manhattan Mercantile company. The total amount of these notes it was stated was $78,000. It was later discovered that there was forgery in connection with them. The new Seventh National bank took up the matter and caused his arrest on the specific charge of the forgery of $1,000. The Seventh National is not affected, it is said, as all the facts were known before the reorganization, by which the accounts in question had been charged off as absolutely worthless.

STRIKE OF OIL AND GAS AT BLAINE WELL AT BEBEQUE.

Special to the Gazette.

Bebeque, March 26.—At an early hour this morning the Blaine well, just north of town, sprung a surprise. At a depth of 270 feet the drill encountered a flow of gas which threw water, oil and rocks to the top of the derrick. Later in the day when the drill was out of the well, water, oil and rocks were thrown away above the derrick. A large stream of water is running from the well and it is covered with oil. After the first flow considerable oil collected in eddies along the waste ditch and some was collected. This strike, which is at 70 feet greater depth than the first strike in Bebeque well No. 1 shows that the first oil stratum encountered in that well extends under the higher ground on which the Blaine well is located. The strike has renewed enthusiasm, and is considered a good omen showing that the limit of the oil belt has not been reached by the Blaine well.

Work progresses at well No. 1 with continued favorable indications. The well is now 900 feet deep. A stratum of oil sand 30 feet thick was passed between the 800 and 900-foot marks. The bailer brought up considerable oil, a barrel of which was saved as a sample. It is of lighter color than that found at 665 feet. The well has apparently reached the cap rock of another oil stratum and drilling will be continued until the oil is reached.

The Buckeye people are disappointed by the fact that the packer so long awaited proved to be the wrong kind when it arrived, and is useless. The Wheeler people are still drilling and are having plenty of water as the rest. The Winchester people will begin drilling this week. Other companies are pushing work on their rigs.

This action was taken after a meeting which lasted a considerable length of time this morning. The fight was to have been held at the Coliseum hall. This hall is the place where a number of the fights have been held, and it is the only large building in the city. It is also the place where the state conventions are held biennially, and a report is current on the streets tonight that the managers of the fight, who are also the managers of the hall, have petitied the Democratic leaders that unless they are allowed to hold the fight the Democrats will not be given the hall for their state convention.

J. H. Mahany, an attorney of Los Angeles, Calif., has come to Colorado in behalf of his brother, Frank Mahany to Mesa county. Frank Mahany is the man who killed W. A. Womack on the Grand Mesa last year because of some trouble arising over Womack's fishing on some lakes controlled by a man by the name of Radcliffe. The brother from California recently learned of his brother's trouble, and is over here to do what he can in the trial. It will be remembered that at the first trial the jury convicted him of manslaughter, but the judge ordered a new trial. Mr. Mahany called on Governor Orman this morning, and tonight left for the scene of the trouble in order to gather what evidence he could before the second trial is held.

The indoor wiremen who have been on a strike resumed their places today. Satisfactory contracts have been made with their employers for the next 12 months. Five of the carriage factories which have been idle because of a strike also resumed operations this morning, the men and employers compromising. The carriage firms which resumed operations are: Timte Bros., Bascom Company, John Murphy Carriage Co., Woeber Bros. and Geo. C. Copenhaber. A conference is being held between the mattress makers and the manufacturers, and there is a good prospect of an early settlement of their strike. When this is settled, only a few minor strikes will be on. In every case arbitration has prevailed.

A BLIND WANDERER

Didn't Know That Food Could Restore Her.

A well-known writer uses Grape-Nuts as a tonic when feeling the effects of extra heavy work. She writes, "Grape-Nuts should be taken regularly as one would a tonic. I eat mine cold in the morning with hot milk or cream poured over it, and it is delicious, nourishing and strengthening.

"Some time ago I said to a lady friend who was a great sufferer from dyspepsia and has been an invalid for five years, and who was a mere skeleton, 'If I had only known you sooner you need not have suffered all these years.' She looked at me in surprise and asked me what I would have done. 'I should have put you on Grape-Nuts Breakfast Food.' I replied quite confidently.

"'Did you ever hear of it? Oh, yes she had heard of it but never tried it as she had never had her attention called to it especially and had not thought it applied to her needs.

"'Now,' I said, 'If you will just set about it and try Grape-Nuts for a week, three times a day, I will guarantee you will rise up and call me blessed.'

"She took my advice and followed it faithfully. When I saw her about a week later she looked like a different person although she had only gained two pounds in weight, but said she felt so much better and stronger and has greatly improved in health and strength since using the food.

"She is getting well and you can imagine her delight is unbounded. My own experience and that of others is sufficient evidence of the scientific value of a food that supplies nourishment to the system and builds up the brain and nerve centers." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Then a huge truck is backed up to the tree and securely fastened. The entire tree 40 or 50 feet high is then tipped over onto the truck and another pair of wheels attached in front, then, with sufficient teams to pull the heavy load the tree is drawn to the place where wanted and restored to an upright position. Much care is required in the work and the trees will receive constant attention until again well rooted.

Cripple Creek Bureau,
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Cripple Creek, March 26.—Maurice Romann commenced suit in the district court today to recover $1,000 damages from the Last Dollar G. M. Co. The plaintiff, alleges that on December 9, 1901, he was employed as a timber man at the property of the defendant company. He had orders to go from the 10th level to the 12th level to put in a turn sheet. He put his tools upon the cage, when without any warning, or without the cager, John Vanze, having signaled the engineer, the cage ascended. Romann states that in order to keep from being crushed he jumped upon the cage. His legs were caught between the shaft timbers and the cage, his right leg broken in two places below the knee, and his left leg broken in one place below the knee. For the bodily pain he suffered, and the crippled condition he is in at present, he asks for $15,000 damages.

The case of E. J. Campbell, conservator of the estate of Joseph McClelland, insane, versus the Morning Glory M. & L. company, was taken up before Judge Seeds in the district court today. By stipulation of the attorneys, J. J. McFeely for the plaintiff, and O. L. Dines for the defendant company, the jury was waived and the testimony was taken before the court. The court found that on April 24, 1900, McClelland while performing his duties as a miner at the Morning Glory property and while exercising due care, was struck by a cross-head. At the time McClelland was descending the shaft upon the bucket. The cross-head fell striking McClelland upon the head, and as a result of these injuries, the unfortunate man lost his reason. Judge Seeds gave the plaintiff damages in the sum of $1,500 and interest at 8 per cent. McClelland is at present in the Insane asylum at Pueblo. It is understood that he will be taken by his brother to his old home at Montreal, Can.

Pueblo Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Pueblo, March 26.—The Pueblo Interurban Rural Electric Traction company petitioned the city council tonight for a franchise to enter Pueblo. The company proposes the building of an electric railway from La Junta to Pueblo, connecting the intermediate towns of the valley, and for this franchise pay the city of Pueblo $1,000 per annum and one per cent. from the gross profits yearly. Also an agreement with the employes to furnish them with 3½-cent rate in Pueblo. The petition was referrend to the ordinance and license committee. It is easy to see the great benefit this road will be to Pueblo and it also will be a paying investment for the operators. At the special meeting of the city council tonight the appropriation ordinance, as amended March 10, carrying a total amount of $387,000 to be apportioned to the various funds of the city for the coming year beginning with April 1, 1902, and ending with March 31, 1903, was carried by five ayes and three nays. The $200 asked by Charles B. Page as damages against the city for injuries which he received by falling into a hole dug in the sidewalk and not properly fenced, where the foundation of the Hotel Maine was being built, was voted down and Mr. Page will be notified at once. The United States Wax Match factory, which has been in operation for about four weeks, yesterday broke all previous records by putting out 220 boxes. If all these matches were laid end to end in a continuous string the length of the string would be over 19 miles. Manager Florsheim reports the factory as behind with its orders and is working overtime. They now manufacture four kinds of matches, namely, the Outdoor match, which is waterproof and cannot be blown out by the wind; the Smoker match, which is a small match, and is double-headed; the Household match, which is a four-inch match and can be carried about the house without danger of being blown out by drafts, and a small vest pocket match which will be found very handy by everyone. The factory at present is employing 30 people, utilizing floor space 40x100 feet. This is another of the "made-in-Pueblo" products.

Rock Island train No. 19, due at the union depot from Colorado Springs at 11:30 o'clock a. m., struck a buggy at the crossing of the Rio Grande tracks at the Sand & Tile brick yards, corner of Twenty-fourth and Summit streets in which were Mrs. J. Clare, her son, 18 months old, and Miss Ella Hines, 21 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hines of East Pueblo. Mrs. Clare and her son were instantly killed. Miss Hines received injuries which the physicians believe will prove fatal. The ambulance removed the injured woman to the Pueblo hospital. It was found that her right arm had been torn off at the shoulder, her back was badly hurt and she received a long, deep gash in the forehead. At 11 o'clock tonight Miss Hines is reported to be resting as easily as could be expected. IMPORTANT DECISION ON INHERITANCE TAX

By Associated Press.

Spokane, Wash., March 26.—In the superior court today, Judge Belt rendered an important decision on the inheritance tax law. He rules that the law allows but one $10,000 exemption from the tax and that this exemption must apply only to near relatives, such as father, wife or daughter. Bequests to distant relatives or those outside the family are not exempt. This ruling was made in the case of the estate of James Clark, a wealthy mining man.

It's only 50 cents one way, 80 cents round trip, limit five days from date of sale, to Cripple Creek District points via THE SHORT LINE.

Health and Its Blessings

Health will come with all its blessings to those who know the way, and it is mainly a question of right-living, with all the term implies, but the efforts which strengthen the system, the games which refresh and the foods which nourish are important, each in a way, while it is also advantageous to have knowledge of the best methods of promoting freedom from unsanitary conditions. To assist nature, when nature needs assistance, it is all important that the medicinal agents used should be of the best quality and of known value, and the one remedy which acts most beneficially and pleasantly, as a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

With a proper understanding of the fact that many physical ills are of a transient character and yield promptly to the gentle action of Syrup of Figs, gladness and comfort come to the heart, and if one would remove the torpor and strain and congestion attendant upon a constipated condition of the system, take Syrup of Figs and enjoy freedom from the aches and pains, the colds and headaches and the depression due to inactivity of the bowels. In case of any organic trouble it is well to consult a competent physician, but when a laxative is required remember that the most permanently gratifying results will follow personal cooperation with the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs. It is for sale by all reliable druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

The excellence of Syrup of Figs comes from the beneficial effects of the plants used in the combination and also from the method of manufacture which ensures that perfect purity and uniformity of product essential in a perfect family laxative. All the members of the family from the youngest to the most advanced in years may use it whenever a laxative is needed and share alike in its beneficial effects. We do not claim that Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of known value, but it possesses this great advantage over all other laxatives that it acts gently and pleasantly without disturbing natural functions, in any way, as it is free from every objectionable quality or substance. To get its beneficial effects it is always necessary to buy the genuine and the full name of the Co.—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package.

FLORENCE

Special to the Gazette.

Florence, March 26.—A new town, to be called Custer, in the Silver Cliff mining district, has been platted and the company behind it for the past three weeks has been busy making portable houses. There are about 40 of these and it is expected that they will be taken up to the new town early next month. Every habitable house in Querida is occupied and quite a number of frame buildings are being put up. The Rio Grande railroad is said to be making a preliminary survey for its road from Westcliffe to Huerfano county and will open up some coal deposits there. It is the intention of the Rio Grande, it is believed, to extend the line into Walsenburg and take the coal from there to Leadville by the way of Custer county.

S. P. Smith of the Ocean Wave coal mine is installing an immense hoisting engine. By this a larger trip of loaded coal cars can be handled than with present engine used. An immense tipple is also being built and the construction will be finished in about 10 days. The Santa Fe Railroad company has about finished laying its spur from the road to the mine, and as soon as this is done the railroad cars will be loaded under the tipple instead of by wagon, and the output will be shipped to Colorado Springs.

Several Colorado Springs people have recently thoroughly investigated the vicinity of Lower Beaver creek as a prospective oil region. It is said that the indications for an extensive oil basin are very good. Several new companies have recently taken up land and oil derricks will be built almost immediately. Colorado Springs capital is also negotiating with T. E. Spencer for an acreage of land lying west of the city. The ground is bounded on three sides by producing wells and it is expected that the deal will be closed about the last of this week.

Farmers and stockmen of the Beaver creek farming district look forward to a good year. Considerable snow has fallen in the Pike's Peak region, which insures plenty of water for irrigation this summer. The alfalfa fields are in good shape for a heavy yield the first cutting and the prospect for fruit there and in this part of the county, so far, is good.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Phillips entertained a number of friends at cards on Monday evening at their home on Independence avenue. The prizes were won by Mrs. E. T. Saunders and Dr. Van Norman.

CECIL RHODES.

THE DEATH of Cecil Rhodes removes from the world a man who deserves in a peculiar way the title of "Empire builder." History has made us familiar with the names of great captains, who have led armies in devastating marches across continents, and have established vast colonies by the subjugation or extermination of hostile peoples.

But Cecil Rhodes was not of this class.

England has sent out governors of colonies, to India and elsewhere, who have built up and established the imperial power over large masses of population and have made for themselves names of greatness in the world.

But Cecil Rhodes was not of their class.

In America we have had great captains in industry, who have distinguished themselves in planning and carrying into execution large business enterprises that have rewarded them with wealth, and have benefited myriads of their fellow countrymen. The great South African, who has just died, was more nearly of the class of these men, and yet he was unlike them.

The name that comes most readily to the mind as his counterpart in history is Warren Hastings, but Hastings used his personal strength and the imperial authority back of him in such a way as to bring upon him the condemnation of a large part of his fellow citizens in an age that was much more tolerant of oppression and rapacity than the present one, while the enemies of Rhodes have not at any time stirred up sentiment against him to such an extent as to imperil his position. Hastings, however, emerged triumphant from his trial in spite of the ability and eloquence of the lawyers employed against him, and it was conclusively shown that India had greatly improved under his rule, that he was extremely popular with the natives and with the majority of the Europeans under his government, and that he was one of the ablest rulers India ever had. "Being a man of positive character he could not fail to make enemies," and this remark applies with equal force to Cecil Rhodes.

The great African who has just died is particularly one of those men of whose greatness it is impossible to judge in the years immediately following his death. It will require a long future to develop the full wisdom of the enterprises that he undertook, and to demonstrate the justice or the injustice of the criticisms that have been made against him.

That he was a man of exceptional ability and force of character does not admit of a doubt. That he used his personal qualities and the power that an imperial government freely allowed him in a masterful way, is equally certain.

What his enemies claimed against him was that he was not sufficiently considerate of the rights and sentiments of those with whom he came in contact, and whose ideas in regard to what was right and fitting to do differed from his own.

He died in comparative youth, before the vast enterprises that he had undertaken had reached the stage of fruitfulness and success. He died in the midst of a struggle which vitally affected the success of the work he had undertaken, and that vitally concerned the outcome of his greatest plans.

Only the future can decide what is to be the political social and industrial status of South Africa, and only the future can decide whether the work of Cecil Rhodes was built upon the sand or upon the foundation of enduring rock.

THE CRIMES AT LA JUNTA.

COLORADO is again doubly disgraced by the two crimes at La Junta, the crime of assault upon a defenseless and aged woman, and the crime of lynching a man who, though presumably guilty of the offense charged against him, had not received the trial demanded by our laws and guaranteed by our constitution.

Nothing that can be said in newspaper columns can lessen the guilt and horror of these events, nothing can palliate the disgrace that comes to the state because of them.

Nevertheless every newspaper that stands for civilization and the law must continue to denounce both the criminal and the mob, until the advance of public sentiment is such that habitual criminals are no longer turned loose to prey like wild beasts upon the innocent and the helpless that may fall into their power, and until the people of Colorado communities will trust the officers of the law to secure the proper punishment of criminals.

TRUTH AND FICTION.

THE WELL-KNOWN story of Doctor Jekyll and Mr. Hyde found another parallel in real life the other day when the Chicago police discovered that Joseph Hopkins, a reputable resident of the suburban village of Palos Park, was regularly engaged in business as a burglar. Hopkins was shot by an ex-policeman while engaged in robbery and was traced to his home. He was known to the police as a bank robber and paroled convict, and is suspected of complicity in the recent $75,000 Chicago postoffice robbery. He lived in the country village as an exemplary citizen, contributed liberally to the support of the church and Sunday school, was generous to the poor, attended church socials, and was among the most highly respected men of the town.

It would be interesting to know whether Hopkins had ever read Stevenson's great novel, and whether he gained any pointers from it for his career.

THE MILITARY IDEA.

THE ARMY authorities should not be too quick to censure General Miles for his testimony before the senate committee. The average citizen, who thinks more of common-sense business methods than he does of the maintenance of army discipline and the respect due to superior officers, will be apt to consider that the commanding general of the army had a pretty good right to express his opinion upon a measure affecting the army organization, and that the senate committee could hardly find a more competent witness for the points upon which it desired testimony than the lieutenant general.

There is altogether too much of the sentiment in the Washington departments that when a plan is fixed up in accordance with the ideas of those who are temporarily in charge of department affairs, that settles it, and that everybody else, in congress, in the army or navy, and all people generally, are incompetent to express any varying opinion.

Such an idea may tend towards the promotion of military discipline, and it may be advisable to adhere to such a policy in time of war. But the organization of the army and navy in time of peace, and the settlement of cases arising out of military operations in the past should be settled under a different system of procedure. The men in the departments who make the plans should not fear to have them submitted to general examination and criticism, neither should they object if any army officer testifies before a congressional committee his opinion of them.

What the country wants, and what the department ought to desire, is the best possible system. It makes no particular difference whether it is approved or disapproved by General Corbin, it is not essential that it be agreeable or disagreeable to General Miles. What we want is a plan that will work well in time of peace, and even better in time of war, one that will make it possible to use the army for the best interests of the country.

The responsibility for such a plan rests upon congress, not less than upon the war department, and congress has the right to seek information upon the matter wherever it thinks it can obtain it.

COLORADO MINERALS AT ST. LOUIS.

NO STATE of the union can equal Colorado in the variety and extent of its mineral resources. This is true, both from the standpoint of the scientist and that of the miner. Some of the most beautiful mineral specimens have been taken from the Colorado mountains, and no mineralogical cabinet is complete without Colorado specimens.

In view of the position of this state as the principal mining state of the Louisiana Purchase as well as from the possibility of making the mineral display at St Louis one of the most attractive and striking of those at the great fair, Colorado should spare no effort in making an exposition of our mineral resources that will be suitable for the occasion.

The Colorado board of St. Louis world's fair commissioners has already arranged to put Mr. Harry Lee in charge of the Colorado mining exhibit. The selection is a good one, and Mr Lee should have the assistance and support of all citizens in his efforts.

THE PEACE OF THE WORLD.

A PECULIAR story comes from London to the effect that the preservation of the peace of the world depends upon Germany and the United States. According to this report, of whose reliability we have no means of judging, an effort has been made to find out what position would be taken by the United States and Germany in the event of a war between the Franco-Russian alliance on one side and the Anglo-Japanese alliance on the other. It is stated that if the neutrality of Germany and the United States could be depended upon, France and Russia would have no hesitation in making a trial of strength with Japan and Great Britain, and that war would almost immediately ensue. It is stated further that France and Russia have asked the other powers, including the United States, Germany, Austria and Italy, what their attitudes would be toward the new alliance. Germany, it is said, has already answered that she would reserve full liberty of action, and would not commit herself in advance to any definite policy, and a similar reply is expected from the United States.

It is certainly to be hoped that the influence of our nation may be used in such a way as to preserve the peace of the world. A contest between the two dual alliances would be a most tremendous one, and so far-reaching in its consequences that no one would be able to predict all of them. Humanity might suffer for a thousand years as a result of the struggle begun over some comparatively unimportant question in northern China.

The interests of the United States certainly incline toward the side of England and Japan, rather than that of France and Russia. But our interests in China are a very small matter as compared with our interests in humanity at large. Anything that we can do to preserve the peace of the world ought to be done. If, as often happens, the surest way to secure peace is to manifest a readiness and a willingness to go to war under certain circumstances, our diplomats should have no hesitation in committing the nation to a decided stand.

ANOTHER ONE ON THE LIST.

THE IOWA legislature has added itself to the list of those adopting a resolution asking for a national constitutional convention, for the purpose of bringing about the election of United States senators by popular vote.

This action is taken in accordance with article 5 of the Constitution, which provides: "The congress, whenever two-thirds of both houses shall deem it necessary, shall propose amendments to this Constitution, or, on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this Constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states, or by conventions in three-fourths thereof, as the one or the other mode of ratifications may be proposed by the congress."

The reason why the state legislatures are put to the roundabout and unnecessarily troublesome way of getting this amendment before the people, is that the United States senate persistently refuses to submit the proposed amendment, although the house of representatives has repeatedly voted in favor of doing so.

The decision of the house committee to file a unanimously favorable report for the Colorado Springs federal building probably assures the passage of that bill through the house, and as it has already passed the senate, its success seems to be assured. Unfortunately, the amount appropriated in the senate is only $150,000, which is not at all in keeping with the character of this city or of the other public and semi-public buildings here. However, that may possibly be remedied at some future time.

The Ups and Downs of a State.

The rapid changes in the fortunes of state at the National capital are strikingly illustrated in the case of New Jersey, which in a few years rose to a pinnacle of influence, but has now fallen back into the ranks.

A brief while ago Garret A. Hobart filled the vice presidency as no other man ever did. He was a power in the administration, and not a mere presiding officer in the senate. He enjoyed President McKinley's confidence, and few measures of importance were decided without his aid.

Hobart's protege, John W. Griggs, was attorney general at a time when international and colonial questions gave to the office an importance it never before possessed.

Gen. William J. Sewell, the senior senator from New Jersey, was one of the president's most loyal supporters in the senate, and Mr. McKinley depended greatly upon his influence in the senate at large and in the military affairs committee.

A fourth Jerseyman, State Senator William M. Johnson, was called to Washington to the post of first assistant Postmaster general, to help extricate the postoffice department from the slough of politics.

All these honors fell to the lot of the long rock-ribbed Democratic state, which Garrett A. Hobart brought into the Republican fold, but now New Jersey is stripped of them all.

The lives of Hobart and Sewell have flickered out. Griggs has returned to the practice of the law, and Johnson has returned to his business and legal interests, which he left only because of President McKinley's promise of the postmaster generalship—a promise that President Roosevelt did not feel binding upon himself.—(New York Times.

Had Passed the "Previous Question."

The not wholly peaceful and Quaker-like meetings of the new board of aldermen called forth a rather appropriate story from District Attorney Jerome the other day.

"I am reminded," said he, "of a story old Senator Nesmith, of Oregon, one of the first settlers of that state, used to tell. At the time when Oregon was admitted as a state, and the first legislature of the state met, Nesmith, who was a member, possessed himself of a copy of a book on parliamentary procedure. This work, which was at the time probably the only one of its sort west of the Mississippi, he studied diligently, and by the time of the first session was well up in the rules of debate.

"At the first meeting of the new legislature a motion was introduced and speedily carried, but on the second measure a dispute arose, and for three days the state legislators wrangled and debated.

"Finally on the third day, Nesmith, who had watched the proceedings without even opening his mouth, decided it was time to use a piece of his parliamentary procedure, so he rose and moved the 'previous question.'

"There was a moment of silence following this motion, and then amid a shout of derision the speaker cried:

"'Sit down, you fool! We passed the previous question three days ago'"—(New York Times.

French Canadians and the British Crown.

Although lectures on the British colonies are never popular in London and are rarely reported in the metropolitan press, a recent address on "The French Canadians and Their Relations to the Crown" is being widely copied and commented on, while extracts have been reproduced in certain Paris papers. The address was a paper read before the Colonial section of the Society of Arts by W. T. R. Preston, Canadian emigration commissioner, who was the chief organizer of the Liberal party in Canada when the general election of 1896 brought Sir Wilfred Laurier into power.

Mr. Preston traced the foundation of New France as a colony from 1608. By the fortune of war Canada was ceded to England in 1763, and England then emerged as victor from the tremendous duel for the mastery of a continent. But this success was fated to have strange and unexpected results, which he proceeded to particularize—the constitutional struggle which grew out of the act of 1791, the suppression of the rebellion in upper and lower Canada, the inquiry of Lord Durham on behalf of the imperial government into the causes of the troubles in 1840. English statesmen very soon afterward found that, by their giving a system of local government to the French population, they secured in the colony a contented people, who, from that time to the present, had never shown the slightest disposition to throw off British supremacy.

The French Canadian had not, said Mr Preston, been wanting in those attributes and characteristics which tended to make a great nation, and which ought to place him in a position similar to the English-speaking Canadians, whose position seemed more fully recognized in France. The French Canadian was not the Frenchman of the republic; he was not the Frenchman of the empire, he was not the Frenchman of the revolution, but he was to a great extent the Frenchman in his traditions of the 17th century. In point of education and progress he remained the Frenchman, but with a strong dash of the Anglo-Saxon of the 20th century.—(New York Times.

Freeman, the Historian, Was a Bit Difficult.

Mr. Edward A. Freeman, the historian, would have been better appreciated by the Americans whom he addressed if they had understood his tense and moods, or, in other words, if they had mastered his mode of speech. It has often seemed to me that scholars, certainly those who dwell within college walls or live secluded lives, have each of them his own "lingo." By this I mean that each has his characteristic use of words, and if you would quickly apprehend his meaning you will do well to observe his habitual diction. A word of praise, even a laudatory tone, means more from some men than a paragraph of eulogy from others. So likewise with criticism and censure. Now the minute exactness which is apparent in Freeman's writings, and is one of his great merits, governed his familiar correspondence and conversation. For example his letters from America give many allusions to the epithets by which he was accosted. He is offended or pretends to be so, because they call him "Professor" and "Doctor." "Once," he says, "I was called 'Colonel.'" He declined to speak at the university because he was under engagements to give lectures at the Peabody institute. If he would not "lecture," I asked him to give some familiar talks to the students. "Familiar talks?" he said ironically. He seemed to be as much surprised as if I had asked him for nursery tales. "Well, conferences," I suggested. "I would not "lecture." I asked him to do a part of the talking and I a part?" was his next inquiry. I forget how we got around the difficulty, but I believe that the term "informal lectures" suited him. At any rate he spoke, and made many friends among us. "There are not so many swells here at Baltimore as at the 'Hub of the Universe,' but we have made some pleasant acquaintances here—judges, professors, and others."—(From "Some Noteworthy Scholars," by Daniel C. Gilman in the April Scribner's.

President Diaz has officially notified the Louisiana Purchase exposition that, in response to the request of President Francis of the exposition, the Mexican government will send to the world's fair a detachment of that country's picturesque cavalry known as "Rurales" also one of Mexico's famous military bands, and permit them to remain during the exposition.

Armstrong Freed and Mrs. Barr Must Pay

The hasty conclusions drawn by Mrs Mary Barr who caused the arrest of Jess Armstrong on the charge of abducting her foster daughter Beulah aged 14 years will cost her dearly The case against Armstrong was nolled yesterday in Justice Ruby s court by Deputy District Attorney Plack for lack of evidence and Mrs Barr was ordered to pay the costs

Mr Plack announced when Armstrong was arraigned that Mrs Barr had made her charges against him [illegible] she was suffering from excitement and that there was no evidence to support the statements that the defendant had stolen the girl Beulah had left home after a quarrel with her mother and went to the residence of a friend in Colorado City She met Armstrong while on the way there but he had nothing to do with her leaving home

Mrs Barr wanted to press the charges but as there was no evidence against Armstrong except her suppositions Mr Black refused to prosecute the prisoner who was discharged from [illegible] He had spent two nights in jail and Justice Ruby said he thought the costs should be paid by Mrs Barr She is a poor woman but the justice thought that she ought to be taught a [illegible] because of the serious statements she made without having any proof in their support The costs have not yet been paid

[illegible] BEATEN [illegible]

BY PEOPLE WHO GET INTO OR OUT OF POSTOFFICE ALIVE.

The New Storm Doors Make People Dodge But Occasionally, as Yesterday Someone is Hurt

Haven t you learned yet that you should always turn to the right? came in vehement growls from a man entering the postoffice as a young lady with giggling tee hees emerged from the building having just slammed the heavy swinging door right in the face of the aforesaid man His face was drawn up with pain and he held his hands up to his nose which had evidently been injured by the swinging blow from the door

There ought to be a sign for such ignoramuses—read turn to the right or the postmaster might put up a sign this door in and this door out mumbled the man to his companion. The girl and her companion laughingly passed on enjoying their little joke immensely

There are double swinging doors at the postoffice and it is not infrequently that similar accidents to the above happen Both sets of doors swing either way and in the shuffle to get in or out many a person is vigorously slammed by the innocent door The second set of doors has been put up for winter protection and it is a hazard to enter the postoffice without being hit by a door Pedestrians are often seen to dodge wildly within the building a sigh of thanksgiving escaping from their lips as they have entered and in going out the same leap-for-your life expression is seen on their countenances

City Hall Bids to Be Opened Tonight

Bids for the erection of Colorado Springs' new city hall, which is to cost about $118 000, will be opened by City Clerk MacMillan at a meeting of the council tonight No bids are yet in, but it is known that three or four contractors, one of them from Denver will be bidders Each bidder will have to file a bond for 2 1 2 per cent of the amount of his bid to insure willingness of carrying out the contract.

It is likely that the contract may be awarded tonight but some of the aldermen may desire to look into the details of the bids carefully and postpone action for a few days As the city has the money for the building the bond issue having been sold in full, the work on the new building will be begun before long The council has not decided what kind of stone will be used in the exterior of the structure, but this decision will be made as soon as the contract is awarded

Bids will also be opened tonight for the construction of a concrete or brick conduit for parts of the main irrigation ditch in the northern part of the city It has not been decided the length of the conduit to be built the length depending upon the amount of money at hand for the purpose

Every alderman except President McIntyre who is in California, is expected to attend the meeting tonight

Minority Stockholder Writes a Vigorous Protest—Says It Does Not Protect—Thinks it a "Pie..." Statement.

The action of the directors of the Central Consolidated company in withdrawing the stock from the lists of the Colorado Springs Mining Stock exchange has been much discussed in mining circles and a good deal criticised The Gazette is in receipt of a strong protest upon the part of a stockholder the same being in the form of a letter, which reads as follows

Colorado Springs March 21 1902
To the Editor of the Gazette

In the Telegraph of Saturday last in an article on the Central Consolidated Mining company and the action of the directors in withdrawing the stock from the Colorado Springs Stock exchange Mr Henry Archer states the move was intended for the protection of the small stockholders

Mr Archer is a director in a National bank in Fremont Neb and a director of the Central Consolidated Mining company and it is surprising that a man competent to act as a bank director should make a statement so puerile that no person living in Colorado Springs or any other city where an exchange is located could believe In fact Mr Archer knows that the only protection we (minority stockholders) have is the open exchange on which a market is made He also knows that the only object in taking the Central stock from the exchange list is that there will be no quotations no knowledge of the affairs of the company and no buyers for the stock except those now in control who are the majority stockholders and mostly directors

The indignation of Mr Archer and his associates at the action of the members of the exchange deceives no one for it is too well known that since the control passed into the hands of the present management of the Central there has been a persistent manipulation of the stock and a forcing of the price from 10 to ... but I suppose this is only another instance of the solicitude for the welfare of the poor minority shareholder

A short time since the affairs of the Central company were in good shape lessees at work royalties coming in and the amount of cash in treasury increasing Under the present board of directors the old lessees have been forced out and the lease taken from them by the president of the company and some of the directors I presume this was another move to protect the interests of the minority stockholders the only trouble in the matter being that we have no means of knowing what is being done The lessees are directors of the company with absolutely no restriction as to what they may or may not do If they wish not a ton of ore need be shipped or all may be milled and no accounting be made—nor one dollar of royalty need be paid into the company for the reason the lessees are only accountable to themselves I would not intimate that these gentlemen would conduct the affairs of the company in any such manner but the principle does not seem exactly right However these men who are doing so much for the minority stockholder may be so absolutely honest as to need no restraining hand

Mr Archer says that when the control changed hands at 10 cents an offer was made to take all the stock at that price but he says nothing of the threats that were made at the time that if the offer was not accepted the fools who refused to take a good thing when they saw it would be forced to accept something very much worse

It is a principle well established that directors of a company may not become personally interested in contracts without the consent of a majority of the stockholders Was the lease made to the directors of the Central company so granted?

Thanking you for the very able editorial in Sunday's Gazette on the question of the value of a listed stock I am very truly one of the grateful

EL PASO SHIPPING ... ORE

Returns on 117 Tons Indicate Values of Over $80 Per Ton—Heavy Development Embarrasses Production.

In developing the big vein at the tunnel level in the El Paso mine on Beacon hill shipping ore is being taken out constantly and as the vein is followed it is found that the shoot is one of the strongest yet opened in the mine The whole width of the drift is screened and runs pay In addition to this ore a higher grade is being obtained from the lower workings of the mine No attempt is made to keep the two grades separate and the ore is found to ship over $80 in gold to the ton Returns were received at the offices of the company yesterday from two shipments aggregating 117 tons The first was settled for at the rate of $81.50 and the second $84.40 in gold to the ton

The company is pushing development work vigorously in all parts of the mine and so much waste is being hoisted through the main workings that it would be impossible to make a very large production through this exit The Orizaba shaft has been pressed into service however and about 20 tons a day is being hoisted in this place

The development work includes opening up the large vein in the tunnel level and in work at the 600 foot depth Work of crosscutting to the big vein at this depth was interrupted by a small flow of water some weeks ago and the management is now waiting for a big pump which is expected by the first of the month before cutting this vein and running the risk of tapping a large flow of water

Work is also progressing in making the upraise from the 600 foot level to the Columbia shaft and 100 feet of this undertaking has just been completed A connection will be made here with a drift run into the Columbia claim under the shaft and then raising will be resumed When the 400-foot point below the surface is reached it will require only 20 days more to establish the connection This when the Columbia shaft is enlarged will give the company its much needed new workings By the time the shaft is completed the heavy machinery ordered for it will be on the ground

PORTLAND CURTAILS PRODUCTION

The Directors Are Resolved That the Profits Belonging to the Stockholders Shall Not Swell Smelter Profits.

Pursuing the policy advocated by President Burns of the Portland and agreed to by practically all of the directors the working force of the mine has been reduced by about 160 employes almost all of whom were engaged in breaking ore for shipment This action was deemed wise in view of the extortionate rates for treatment with which the smelter trust has been burdening the Portland company

The force of some 400 men left at the mine are for the most part engaged in development work Some miners have been retained in the stopes as it is not desired to cut off the production altogether The production so far this month has been at the rate of about 8 000 tons for the 31 days and it is desired to bring the total as near this amount as possible

The Portland company is well able to suspend shipments entirely for the two months preceeding the opening of their new mill on June 1 but it has not been decided to do this and in view of the fact that even when the mill is built it will not handle all grades of the Portland ores it would probably not be advisable to shut off now on those grades which would not be diverted from the smelters even after June 1

Development work at the mine is preceeding on the scale for which the Portland management has always been celebrated and it is rumored that there will be more ore in sight by the first of June by several millions than ever before in the history of the property

LEXINGTON LESSEE IN ... ORE

Kirk Has Developed From the 135-Foot Level a Vein Carrying Ore Which Ships $240 and Runs as High as $2,000 Per Ton.

A decided improvement has taken place in the Kirk lease on the Clara D claim of the Lexington company Some time ago a good vein was opened in a crosscut run from the 135 foot level and an ore shoot subsequently developed showed extremely good values Several good shipments were marketed from the ore body and it was proved up for a vertical distance of 100 feet 40 feet in an upraise and 60 feet in a raise

But in the course of the work in the last few days a decided increase in the ore values has occurred The shipments had been averaging about $40 in gold to the ton but a lot of ore taken from the upraise 40 feet above the level returned values of $240 in gold to the ton At this point the vein is 12 feet wide and the shoot averages at least three showing a very rich streak from which assays as high as $2 000 in gold to the ton have been obtained

The vein is one which has not so far as is known heretofore been opened in the property It has a north and south course and apparently no connection whatever with any of the various lodes which have been worked in the mine in the past The shoot has averaged between three and four feet ever since it was first opened and while at times the ore had to be very carefully sorted it now appears as if a mine had been developed

At the same depth Lessee Kirk has opened on east and west vein which is showing three feet of ore worth $50 and $70 in gold to the ton and appears to be very strong This is being developed as rapidly as possible

Since the Lexington company leased its entire holdings some very good developments have taken place Practically the whole surface is now under operation and the lessees are being very successful

STRIKE ON GALENA HILL

Rich Ore Reported in Anna Belle Workings of the Sedan Company—Portland Company Curtails Production Until Mill is Completed.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek March 26—A big strike is reported in the Anna Belle workings of the Sedan company on Galena hill It is understood that six assays on the ore body in the breast of the drift at an actual depth of about 160 feet, range from 1 84 to 100 ounces in gold to the ton This is indicative of a splendid showing and Lessee Kellum is at present sacking ore that is hoisted from the first level It looks as if the Sedan is to soon come into prominence again as a high grade proposition About a year ago the mine was making heavy shipments of smelting grade rock and sacked ore but recently the production has not been very heavy although active work on ore has been carried on continually

The Golden Cycle company has about 30 feet more sinking to accomplish before cutting out the station at the 900-foot depth of the Legal Tender shaft When the sinking is completed, early next month, the 900 and 800 foot levels will be run out simultaneously on the system of veins from which the Golden Cycle is maintaining its 150-ton daily production in the upper level In the drift above the 700 foot level the ore was always found in low grade, but a marked improvement has been noted in thoroughly developing the ore shoot at the 700 foot depth

U S Hollister and associates, leasing a block of the Colorado Boss No 3 and operating through a surface tunnel are preparing another shipment which will go out in the course of a few days The ore body that has been developed yields $40 values at the 50-foot depth and a steady production will be maintained

A 60-ton shipment of average $40 mineral was closed today from the Goddard lease on the Pinto of the Free Coinage company. Sub-Lessee Neville will send out a 35-ton lot before the end of the week The ore from the 100-foot level, Mr Neville's block, is of much better grade, and should return an average of between $50 and $60 to the ton

The Portland company commenced yesterday to lay off a portion of its force which in whole complement numbers 650 men The company is taking this action in order to curtail production and expense of operation until the mill in the course of construction at Colorado City is completed This will be some time between May and June The number of men to be dropped from the Portland pay roll for the present is 150 and the best miners on the force will be retained In answer to a query as to whether the operations would be suspended at all Superintendent R A Trevarthan this morning said I have received no orders to close down the mine and am simply laying off a portion of the force until our own reduction plant is completed There will be no suspension of operations as far as I know

Local mining men are at a loss to figure out the condition of Stratton's Independence mine and the conduct of its highly paid expert John Hays Hammond Mr Hammond has again cabled to London stockholders news to the effect that developments in the lowest workings have been very discouraging and that his statement made six months ago is correct It seems that the Independence has been maintaining an extraordinarily large output for a $300 000 mine (this being the amount stated by Mr Hammond to be in sight in September last) the tonnage shipped daily from Stratton's Independence averaging close to 300 tons The action of Mr Hammond in sending out such discouraging reports is not clearly understood Mr Hammond did not spend over 24 hours in making his regular examination of the property

SURPRISING RESULTS

A Simple Internal Remedy Makes Remarkable Cures of Catarrh.

People who have used sprays inhalers salves and washes for catarrh and have found how useless and inconvenient they are will be agreeably surprised at results following the use of a pleasant internal remedy in tablet form druggists everywhere admit that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets lets which they sell at 50 cents for full sized treatment is the safest most effective and popular of all catarrh remedies

Nearly all cheap cough mixtures and throat lozenges contain opiates these cheap medicines give a temporary relief especially with little children by destroying nerve sensation the irritation in throat which causes coughing is temporarily removed not by removing the cause but by deadening the nerves of feeling the irritation is not felt although it is still there and will promptly return

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets is the best remedy to remove catarrhal secretion whether in the nose throat or stomach because they are composed of wholesome antiseptics—blood root red gum from eucalyptus tree etc When you use these tablets you know what you are putting into your system and not taking chances with cocaine opiates or similar poisons found in so many catarrh cures and cough medicines

Dr Ramsdell in commenting on catarrh cures says I can heartily recommend Stuart's Catarrh Tablets because they contain no cocaine nor other dangerous drug found in so many advertised catarrh cures I have known of many cases of long standing catarrh of the head and throat completely cured by the daily use of these tablets for several weeks One case in particular which I could not reach with an inhaler or spray and where the catarrh caused daily headaches and a noticeable loss of hearing was entirely cured by this harmless but effective remedy

Dr Wainwright says I never hesitate to prescribe Stuart's Catarrh Tablets for catarrhal headaches and catarrhal deafness because I know them to be perfectly safe for child or adult and have seen many remarkable cures resulting from their regular daily use because they are advertised and sold in drug stores is no reason why any good physician should not use them because we should seize upon the means of cure wherever found

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are especially valuable for catarrhal colds in children because they are pleasant to the taste and may be used freely to break up severe colds and croup at the very beginning

MINING NOTES ... DOWN TOWN

Much interest is being manifested in the nature of the forthcoming report of John Hays Hammond on the Stratton's Independence mine Mr Hammond has recently made an examination of the property and it is rumored, a preliminary report has been cabled to London The previous report of the consulting engineer placed the ore reserves at only $300 000 net and it is alleged that more than that amount has been taken out since the report was made in net values and that the reserves have been left practically immaculate If the present report again underestimates the reserves of the mine there will be even more dissatisfaction expressed than there was before, as the reports do great injury to Cripple Creek

ZOE PROPERTY LEASED TO BEST OF DENVER

The Zoe Gold Mining company has granted a two years bond and lease on its property consisting of the Lanterman estate on the Arequa townsite, to John Best of Denver The Zoe property does not cover more than an acre but is one of the richest claims of its size ever developed in the district There is a net work of veins extending from the Gold Dollar and the Mabel M properties into the Zoe and good ore has been disclosed in these leads at various depths It is understood that the bond called for a payment approximating $75 000 by March 1904 The Zoe has had a varied career its stock selling from 1 to 30 cents a share during the last year Recently the shaft house and equipment were destroyed by dynamite The shaft is to be deepened to the 600 foot point after some addition is made to the equipment

TWELVE ANACONDA LESSEES SHIPPING

Twelve of the twenty-six sets of lessees working on the Anaconda are now making steady shipments Ogilvie and associates leasing on the Great View have a splendid body of ore uncovered at a depth of 100 feet Allen & Co leasing on the Lone Star are now drifting at a depth of 165 feet on four feet of quartz the greater portion of which is pay rock The company is working 400 feet below the tunnel level and from a reliable source it is learned several good ore bodies have been opened up recently

ENCOURAGING ASSAYS FROM C C AND M CLAIM

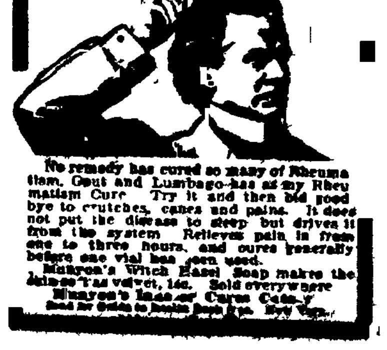

Lessees working on the Tom Patterson of the C C & M company situated east of the Victor on Bull hill are getting some very encouraging assays from a four foot vein in a drift run at a depth of 80 feet Several shipments have been sent out from this property the ore coming from the surface The lessees now believe that they have the vein and ore shoot in place

GOOD ORE OPENED IN WACU WETA PROPERTY

Thorpe & Smith who have been working on the Wacu Weta opened by the Maroon company have broken into some good ore within the past few days They are drifting at the 300 foot level on a vein of ore running all the way from three to five feet in width that assays from one to six ounces A shipment will be sent out tomorrow

ACTIVITY ON SOUTH-EAST SLOPE OF BULL

A great deal of work is now in progress on the southeast slope of Bull hill Alongside the Victor on a fraction recently located a shaft has been sunk to a depth of fifty feet and some ore is being encountered A shipment of several carloads was sent out last week that went better than one ounce

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, March 26.—The mining stock market was quiet presenting almost no features but the stocks which were traded in were either firm or advancing, and the trading in one or two instances was fairly good. The demand for the stocks which represent especially favorable possibilities is noticed to be quite active but it is not resulting in very many sales, it being the sentiment of the holders that they will get their prices at their prices before the week is over. The firmness of stocks yesterday does not warrant this assumption and the bulls are very confident. Acacia sold at 10½, keeping quite firm and Little Mountain was a trader at 16½, not quite so strong as it was the earlier part of the week, but showing an advance of three cents over prices ruling a couple of weeks ago before the property had begun to show so marked an improvement. Doctor gained again to 48. There was a noticeable demand for these shares at lower prices, but the feeling in regard to this stock is bullish. Elkton declined radically to $1.14½, the loss having many of the earmarks of another manipulation. Isabella sold as high as 24½ but Lexington lost fractionally and Portland was weaker at $2.13½. Weakness was manifested by Little Puck selling at 7, and by Sunset-Eclipse of which 14,000 shares were sold at 9¾. C. K. and N. was a good trader at 5⅝.

DOAN'S

Many a Colorado Springs Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.

With a back constantly aching.
With distressing urinary disorders.
Daily existence is but a struggle.
No need to keep it up.
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.
Colorado Springs people endorse this claim.

Mr James Niles of 15 East Cimarron street carpenter, says. "During the fall of 1898 and the winter of 1899 an attack of backache persistently clung to me. If I had taken it in time I might have checked it in its earliest stages, but I neglected it, and when I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Jones & Wellington's drug store, 109 N. Tejon street, there was not the slightest doubt but some derangement of the kidneys caused the annoyance. As the treatment cured me, I am only too glad to indorse the remedy."

For sale by all dealers, price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

"She Let Concealment Like a Worm i' the Bud Feed on Her Damask Cheek"

How aptly Shakespeare touches the dominant chord in a woman's nature. She suffers in silence, draws a curtain over her private sorrows, and endures until endurance ceases to be a virtue. This is especially the case with the modest minded women who suffer from diseases peculiar to the sex. They are miserable and unhappy, and yet, although they know that they need medical aid and assistance, they choose rather to bear the ills they know than to submit to the examination of some local physician. For this reason many a woman lets disease fasten upon her. She conceals her condition and endures a daily martyrdom of pain because her mind revolts at the thought of submission to the treatment she knows the local practitioner will insist upon.

Very many women have written grateful letters to Dr R. V. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. because they have found in his methods an escape from the offensive questions the obnoxious examinations and the disagreeable local treatments insisted on by so many home physicians. These things, are, as a rule not necessary. Dr. Pierce's experience and success in treating hundreds of thousands of women, enables him at once to determine from the written statements of women the form of disease which it is necessary to treat. Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is sacredly confidential and the same strict professional privacy guards the written confidences of women as is observed by Dr. Pierce and his staff in personal consultations with women at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Woman's Statement.

"I enjoy good health thanks to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs J. J Schneyter, of Pontiac, Livingston Co., Ill. "Have taken six bottles of each kind. I was taken sick last February and the doctors here called it 'Grip.' I lay for four weeks in bed, then when I got up I found I had 'Displacement.' Had such aches and pains in my back and limbs, could not stand any length of time. I knew that our home doctor would insist the first thing on an examination and that I would not submit to, unless I was dangerously sick, and then it would be too late to do any good. My son had your book, Common Sense Medical Adviser, and I thought from reading it that Dr. Pierce's medicines would do me more good than all the home doctors—and so it has. If any one had told me it would do me so much good I would have said, 'Oh no, not that much good.' I can truly say that I was surprised at the benefit I received. I can do all my washing and also tend my flower garden. In fact, I am on my feet most all the time. An old friend of mine said to me, 'Why, what is the matter with you? You are getting young again.' I told her I had taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicines, and if she would do likewise she would feel ten years younger, too."

However wonderful it may seem, that Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription is uniformly successful in curing diseases peculiar to women, it is not so wonderful as it appears. It is not wonderful to us, that a machine made to perform a certain task accomplishes it perfectly. We do not wonder at the engine which pulls the train of cars, although we know nothing of mechanics. We know the engine was made to do this thing. We do not wonder at a musical artist like Paderewski who sits at the instrument and produces perfect harmony. We know that constant practice enables his perfect command of the key board. Let an inexperienced player sit down to the piano, and the same keys falsely touched jar into discord. It is so with Dr Pierce in his experience and practice of medicine. "Favorite Prescription" only does what it was made to do. Doctor Pierce knows the whole gamut of the female organism. Where a less experienced practitioner produces a discord, his experience and skill enables the production of perfect harmony. The difference between the success of Dr. Pierce and the ordinary practitioner in the treatment and cure of womanly ailments is the difference between skill and success on the one hand and a casual experience on the other.

Gained Ten Pounds.

"I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and two of his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and received great benefit," writes Mrs. Elmer D. Sheare, of Mounthope, Lancaster Co., Pa. "I do not have those sick spells as formerly. Before I took your medicine I could hardly walk at times, when I had uterine trouble. I can truly say that after taking four bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I did not suffer any more. I gained ten pounds in weight. In June I commenced using the medicine and in July helped to harvest the wheat, so you may know that I did not feel very bad."

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries disagreeable drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite, and induces refreshing sleep. As a tonic for weak, worn-out, rundown women it is unequaled. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

Accept no substitute for "Favorite Prescription." The only motive for substitution is to enable the dealer to make the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines.

EASTERN MARKETS

New York Stock Market.

By Associated Press.

New York, March 26.—Today's stock market was a very dull and professional affair. Colorado Fuel and Amalgamated Copper absorbed between them a large proportion of the day's dealings from the opening to the close. The first named ranged up to 2¾ over last night and the copper stock to 1¾c. Colorado Fuel lost the greater part of the gain on realizing during the latter part of the day but Amalgamated retained all but a small fraction. Its subsidiary stock was also firm at or above last night's price, notwithstanding the indefinite postponement from yesterday of the Anaconda dividend meeting. The demand was attributed to a short interest which sought to take advantage of discouraging news to cover their short contracts. The stock was not offered as freely as the bears had anticipated. There was no new development in Colorado Fuel, and the large transactions in the stock were by the same brokers as those recently active in it. The preferred make an opening jump of six points, relapsed seven and rallied four. Tennessee Coal was firm in sympathy but the other active stocks were neglected and heavy. American Telephone rose four and Saulte Ste Marie was at one time up four points and the preferred three. There was some firmness in one or two of the prominent railroad stocks, but the tendency of the general list was lower. The factors influencing the market were practically the same as those of yesterday. The threat of a strike by the anthracite miners was a widespread influence and Wall street opinion is by no means so confident against the probability of the strike as was professed on Monday. A violent break in Evansville & Terre Haute caused a violent break in both the stocks of that company and had a sinister effect on other stocks which have been pushed up on rather vague assurances of dividends. Chicago, Indianapolis & Louisville was notably affected but recovered part of the loss. The coalers themselves as a rule were only slightly affected by the labor situation but Lackawanna made a violent break of four and a half. The coming adjournment of the exchange from Thursday to Monday had the usual effect of causing a closing up of contracts. There is some fear that the demand in the loan market to carry over stocks from Thursday until Monday will cause a flurry in call loan rates tomorrow. There is a possibility also that a poor bank statement will be issued in the interim. The possible breaking off of negotiations for peace in South Africa before trading is resumed was taken account of as well as the apparent approach of the end of the career of Cecil Rhodes, which was in fact reported on the exchange late in the day. The market closed easy.

There was a yielding tendency to the prices of bonds in sympathy with stocks. Green Bay and Western Debenture Bs were an exception with a rise of ½. Total sales, par value, $2,500,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

London Market.

By Associated Press.

New York, March 26.—Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram:

The stock market was characterized by holiday idleness. There was a dull opening on the more unfavorable news about Cecil Rhodes, but strength developed later on the defeat of General Delarey which is expected to expedite peace. American shares were lifeless and dull on bear talk of labor troubles among the miners, inter-state commerce proceedings and trusts. Rio Tintos spurted to 43⅝ on the ⅝ rise in copper to £52¼ the ton but Anaconda was weak at 5¾, fearing a passing of dividends.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

By Associated Press.

Chicago, March 26.—Bullish manipulation by speculators in all pits on the Board of Trade, aided somewhat by damage reports in winter wheat, influenced strong and active markets. May wheat closed ⅝c higher, May corn 1¼c and May oats ⅛c up. Provisions closed 7½@10 to 22½ higher.

Corn strength easily ruled all grains and the corn pit led in activity. At the start cables were higher as compared to lower prices here yesterday. There was some early selling on wheat influence but soon there started a bull movement in July corn that caused a sharp upturn in all corn options. There was some talk of a bull campaign to be worked in July corn and considerable importance was attached to it. Next in importance to this factor for the corn advance, which was augmented by an improvement in the cash corn situation, was the upturn in wheat resultant from crop damage reports in the winter wheat country. Local bulls started buying freely, commission houses followed suit and shorts covered liberally. There was also some export business reported which had its bullish influence. The sentiment seemed to change entirely, and nearly every trader wanted stuff. May corn opened ⅛@¼c to ¼c higher at 58½ to 58¾@58⅝c, eased to 58¼@58⅜c on weather reports and wheat selling, then spurted to 58⅞. Some of the advance was lost but it was solely due to the willingness of early buyers to liquidate for liberal profits. May closed strong 1¼c higher at 59½@59⅝. Receipts were 124 cars.

Aside from the corn influence wheat had good reasons of its own to advance prices. Opening conditions, such as cables and small receipts, worked for fair early advances, but the "crop killer" at once became an active factor. True, there were bearish influences at work early in rain reports and news of general spring wheat seeding. But the general good weather soon lost its effect when word was received from the president of the Kansas and Oklahoma Grain Dealers association, stating that Kansas would harvest only 50 per cent. and Oklahoma only 40 per cent. of a crop. Of late crop damage reports have had little consideration at the hands of speculators. Now, however, it seems that traders consider the growth of the plants so far advanced that where farmers report the ground being plowed over again attention is given. Today's reports started a good advance which was met by liberal offerings. Then some of the big men bought, corn exerted its influence and shorts covered sending prices up. Some profit-taking toward the close caused a lose of some of the advance but throughout the session the tone was excellent. May started ⅛c to ⅜c higher at 72⅜c to 72⅝c, eased off to 72⅛c and then worked up quickly to 73⅛@73¼c. The close was firm. May ⅝c higher at 72⅞c. Local receipts were 30 cars, none of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 158 cars, or a total for the three points of 188, against 290 last week, and 381 a year ago. Primary receipts were 389,000 bushels compared to 579,000 bushels last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 138,000 bushels. The export demand was slack; the seaboard reporting only 14 loads taken.

There was only a moderate trade in oats but the tone ruled firm with other grains. Commission houses took some fair long lines, the offerings were never on a large scale. July and September were in better demand than May options. In the latter month there was some early weakness on an absence of demand. The farther months felt the strength of corn and wheat more than May. Although favorable weather in oats was a good bear argument, the corn strength overbalanced it and the short side was not popular. The tone of the market was helped by the news that Kansas City bids at the river were 1¼c over Chicago's best bid on No. 2 whites. May sold as low as 42c, advanced to 43¼ and closed firm, ⅛c up at 42⅞c. Receipts were 88 cars.

Covering of large short lines in pork was the principal bull factor in provisions. At the outset the same strong feeling that existed last week showed itself again, hogs were commanding better prices at the yards and there was a good speculative demand for everything on the list. Offerings were very small and the continent was reported bidding. Trade was heavier than usual in all lines. Commission houses bought freely for packers and bulls took lard and ribs. After a firm opening prices advanced sharply, May pork gaining at one time 37½c. Profit-taking late reduced the gains. May pork closed 22½c up at $16.15; May lard 7½@10c higher, at $9.70@9.72½, and May ribs, 10c advanced at $8.82½.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 25 cars; corn, 130; oats, 75 cars. Hogs, 40,000 head.

Boy Badly Bitten By Vicious Dog

A little son of Mr James Lamont is lying ill at his home on the south side the result of a bite from a vicious dog. The little fellow was seized by the thigh while coming out of his home the dog without warning springing and sinking its teeth deep into the flesh. The animal dragged him for a distance of three yards before help reached him from the jaws of the brute. A doctor was called and the wound cauterized and dressed but the patient is unable to be out of bed. It is not thought the dog is mad but every precaution against rabies developing in the child has been taken. The canine is owned by a Mrs Kearns who refuses to have the animal killed consequently a warrant was sworn out by Mr Lamont charging her with harboring a vicious and dangerous dog. The trial of the case comes up before Judge Dobson on Saturday. Other complaints are made by residents of the neighborhood who claim that this is not the first time the dog has bitten children and say it is a menace and danger to all the little ones of that vicinity.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HELD A MEETING

The chamber of commerce held a meeting Monday but transacted no business of importance. The hotel project was discussed but no measure was produced that offered a solution of the question unless it was that the chamber take the project in hand and produce the money for the erection of a first class hotel. The matter will come up for further action at a future meeting. The city park question was debated and it was shown that it would take something like $2,000 to fix up the grounds for the watering of trees and otherwise place the park in shape ready for improvements. A general discussion of matters appertaining to the benefit of the city ensued but no definite action on any proposition was taken. Meantime the various standing committees are on the alert to report on or encourage any new enterprise that may be seeking a home in Colorado City.

CONTROLLING INTEREST IN C. & S. RAILWAY

By Associated Press

New York March 25—The Journal of Commerce tomorrow will contain an authoritative statement that Edwin Hawley and his associates have secured a controlling interest in the Colorado & Southern railway. This control was secured by purchase of stock in the open market. Mr Hawley is president of the St Louis & Minneapolis railway and the Iowa Central. He was for many years traffic manager of the Southern Pacific but resigned that position only a few weeks ago.

It is understood the Journal of Commerce will say, that the new owners of the property are acting for themselves and not for any other interest. The Colorado & Southern is successor to the Union Pacific Denver & Gulf and the Denver Leadville & Gunnison systems. It also owns a majority of the stock of the Fort Worth & Denver City system identified with the Colorado & Southern are also represented in the management of the Colorado Midland. The mileage of the Colorado & Southern owned and leased not including the Fort Worth & Denver City system, is about 1,140 miles.

CABINET DISCUSSED CUBAN QUESTION

By Associated Press

Washington March 25—The Cuban question occupied nearly the entire time of the cabinet meeting today the details of the transfer of the island to the new government being considered at great length. It is the desire of the administration to provide as fully as possible for the absolute and complete turning over of the government as soon as the Cuban flag is raised.

Considerable time was taken up in reading in full the instructions given Governor General Wood for the withdrawal of the United States sovereignty. This government is anxious to maintain the million dollar dry dock at Havana to establish or maintain one or two naval stations to continue the system of weather stations which have proved of great efficacy in giving ample warning of storms approaching the United States and vice versa and other important meteorological work but these details while fully discussed are matters subject to negotiations and discussion between the representatives of this government and the Cuban representatives.

The postal service is one important branch whose transition into absolute control of Cubans will occasion no difficulty. The chain of post offices now in operation are in public buildings belonging to Cuba, and the postal service of this government has no property worth mentioning on the island. The postmasters except possibly at Santiago, are natives and there will therefore be no occasion for changes in the personnel unless the new Cuban government has reasons for them not now anticipated. There was only a passing reference to the recent Miles incident and a disposition was manifested to ignore the case for the present.

A number of routine matters of department details were also discussed.

Eating a Question.

Pleasurable Anticipation,

When Proper Food is Used in Moderation.

If you are one of those who have eaten too freely of Grape Nuts and have been satiated we have a word of help and advice for you. It is a concentrated food and the system requires and can handle only a small amount at a time.

If too much is taken nature revolts against the overloading. Be moderate and enjoy the food day by day. It is too valuable to your system and to your sturdy health to give over. It is a common fault for people to overeat candy or any other delicacy at some time in life and from an excess be driven to abstinence. But with Grape Nuts it will richly repay you to start again on the fixed allowance of not more than three heaping teaspoons for the cereal part of the meal and so long as you use the food in moderation you will stick to it and look forward to the meal with pleasurable anticipation. Remember Grape-Nuts furnishes the most delicious tasting cereal food known and contains the certain elements nature uses for repairing and rebuilding the brain and gray matter in the nerve centers. The steady and moderate user of Grape-Nuts can depend upon daily nourishment of the kind that gives one that feeling of reserve strength so essential to a successful active brain worker. Do no try to cook this food. It is thoroughly and completely cooked at factory and is ready for instant service.

RAYMOND PARTY AND THE STORM

They Generally Come Together and This Year Proved No Exception to the Rule.

Just about as soon as the Raymond excursion parties begin coming to town during the early spring months, the old timers scan the skies for the inevitable storm that is certain to follow on the trail of the returning Californian tourist. That the old saw could not go amiss the storm clouds gathered yesterday just about the time the Raymond party arrived at the Cliff house.

There were about 200 in the party the first section arriving on Sunday and the second on Monday night. Yesterday morning the tourists were in jubilant spirits over the prospects of a bright day such as the railroad guide books advertise for Colorado. They forthwith hurried through breakfast, then strapping on cameras and kodaks started off for the mountains on horse back and in open carriage. About 20 or more of the party started for Cripple Creek.

At noon they returned disgusted, weather beaten and covered with sticky wet snow that would have done credit to an old fashioned Christmas.

"Roses and flowers and palm trees all forsaken for this beastly storm and this is the famed sunny weather of Colorado" exclaimed a lady of the party as the snow was swept with brooms from her dress.

"This is the worst storm of the winter. It is the storm which was bound to come as soon as the Raymonds began coming" replied Mr Nichols of the Cliff house in humble apology that the weather was not as cheerful in its welcome as might be desired.

The party were all New England people. G. H Simon conducted the party.

Work on the Colorado Springs & Suburban Street railway in the vicinity of Manitou was abandoned yesterday noon on account of the snow which impeded all work. The snow lay so heavy on the tracks that the cars were stopped and until the snow was swept from the tracks transportation was stopped. At present the work on the railway is centered at the bridge at Fountain creek and the laying of the new track through the Bell property.

Mr and Mrs C A Pollen were made the proud parents of a 10 pound boy who came to their home on Monday. Mr Pollen celebrated the event by treating all his associates at the court house yesterday.

Mrs R T Dunaway entertained the High Five club yesterday.

Philip Cook of Kansas City is stopping at the Cliff house.

F E Hammond and R S Coon of Boston are recent arrivals at the Cliff house.

F H Parker of Burlington, Vt is registered at the Cliff house.

Miss Estelle Stair of Philadelphia is visiting friends in Manitou.

MINERS ASK AID OF CIVIC FEDERATION

By Associated Press

New York March 25—President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, accompanied by President John Fahey Thomas Nicols and Thomas Duffy of the anthracite district organizations arrived in this city tonight to carry out the mission entrusted to them by the miners convention of soliciting the intervention of the Civic Federation for the purpose of averting the threatened strike in the anthracite regions. They went to the Ashland house.

When the committee on conciliation and arbitration of the Civic Federation meets tomorrow at the headquarters of the federation President Mitchell who is a member of the committee will bring his three colleagues before that body where they will have an opportunity to explain their mission and ask the committee's aid. The specific request they will make according to President Mitchell, will be that the committee exercise its good offices to bring about a conference between the anthracite operators and the committee of 14 which the convention empowered President Mitchell to appoint for the purpose of meeting the employers and to adjust the grievances. The committee has not yet been appointed. President Mitchell was not inclined to make much comment on the situation in the anthracite fields. That a strike was imminent unless the differences between the operators and men could be bridged over he freely admitted, regarding the attitude of the soft coal workers in any strike that might occur in the anthracite regions President Mitchell said he thought that was a matter which could not be discussed with any profit at the present time.

Senator Hanna arrived from Washington tonight and was met by Ralph M Easley secretary of the National Civic Federation who accompanied him to his hotel. The senator announced that he would preside at a meeting of the conciliation committee tomorrow and at the meeting would be Bishop Potter Oscar Strauss and Franklin MacVeagh representing the public Charles A Moore M A Marks and William E Pfahler representing the interests of the employers, and John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers F P Sargeant grand master of the executive board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and James Buchanan, secretary of the National Granite Cutters union, who will represent the working men.

Senator Hanna said he could say nothing as to the troubles between the miners and operators as he was not familiar with the present situation but that he and his associates would do their best to bring about amicable relations.

HOUSE SEATED MOSS IN PLACE OF RHEA

By Associated Press

Washington, March 25—The house today by a majority of 10 unseated Mr Rhea of Kentucky, a Democrat, and seated in his place J McKenzie Moss who was formerly a Democrat but who, according to his brief is in accord with the Republican party on the dominant issues. The Republican majority in the house is 43. While only two Republicans, Hansbury and Vreeland, of New York voted with the Democrats, enough Republicans remained away or declined to vote to reduce the majority to 10.

The conclusion of the debate on the case was rather spirited, Mr Rhea making an eloquent defense of his right to the seat.

After the vote the house began consideration of the army appropriation bill with the understanding that general debate should continue for 10 hours. Mr Scarborough of South Carolina, discussed the southern election laws and Mr Gaines of Tennessee the Philippine situation.

NEW WARRANTS FOR THE ARREST OF THE ANDREWS

By Associated Press

Detroit Mich March 25—New warrants were issued today for the arrest of Frank C Andrews vice president of the wrecked City Savings bank and Henry R Andrews of the bank on the complaints signed by E W Hayes the expert accountant who is representing the city and county officials in the investigation of the affairs of the bank. Two complaints were made today against the men. One of them charges them jointly with wilful misappropriation of funds of the City Savings bank while the other charges Cashier Andrews with misappropriation and F C Andrews with aiding and abetting. The complaints are based on certain checks and drafts for $265,601, issued February 5 and 6 when Frank C Andrews was already indebted to the bank to the amount of $300 000. Inasmuch as F C Andrews is now in jail and H R Andrews is already under heavy bond the men's personal recognizance in the sum of $1,000 was accepted for the two warrants.

F. WHARTON GOLDEN SAID TO BE DYING

By Associated Press

Louisville Ky March 25—F. Wharton Golden, whose statements to counsel for the commonwealth led to the indictment of W S Taylor Caleb Powers and others on the charge of complicity in the murder of William Goebel and who was an important witness in the conviction of Powers Henry Youtsey and Jim Howard is said to be slowly dying of consumption in New Mexico. It is generally conceded that Golden's death would be a severe blow to the prosecution in the Goebel case. With him dead it is asserted that much of the commonwealth's evidence against W S Taylor and Charles Finley could not be placed before a jury.

STEEL MEETING

By Associated Press

New York March 25—The executive committee of the United States Steel corporation held a protracted meeting today but according to President Schwab did not complete the arrangements for the retirement of $200 000 000 of preferred stock for the issuance of $250 000 000 of five per cent bonds. George W Perkins chairman of the financial committee says that formal announcement of the entire plan will be made before the end of the week.

Oklahoma's Great Expectations

St Louis March 22—Word comes from Oklahoma that the entire territory will be organized to prepare the exhibit for the world's fair at St Louis. At a conference between Governor Ferguson and a committee representing the Oklahoma Agricultural society the plan of having a representative of the world's fair commission in each county prepare exhibits all to be assembled at a central point on a given date met with general approval. A part of the fund available for the territory's representation at the fair will be set aside for this purpose and a vast amount of volunteer work will add to the results. Another feature proposed for the Oklahoma exhibit is a continuous stereopticon exhibition showing buildings and scenes in Oklahoma.

Texas Bankers Discuss the Fair

St Louis March 22—At the State Bankers convention a Houston Texas President Hilliard brought up the question of state representation at the Louisiana Purchase exposition in St Louis. The banking capital of Texas is now over $30 000 000 with a surplus of $11 000 000 making a working capital of over $40 000 000. President Hilliard presented the proposition of assessing the entire banking capital of the state one tenth of one per cent thus raising $30-000, for the world's fair fund. He said that by that act there would be at once imparted to the people a confidence that might be lacking if any individual undertook to father the scheme. There is hardly a banker or bank he said be his business ever so small who will not own that he will be benefited to the extent of his subscription.

It has been decided to use all St Louis hardwood timber in the construction of the frame work for the world's fair buildings, instead of steel uprights and girders. The proposition is favored by the fire underwriters as being less dangerous than the bare steel columns and beams as the steel would warp under heat and be likely to precipitate the roof into the burning mass while the heavy hardwood timbers would burn less rapidly and hold their place until well burned away. However the fire protection is intended to be so perfect that it will be impossible for a fire at any period to gain serious headway.

About $15,000 in material and cash has been donated toward the Arkansas building at the world's fair at St Louis.
